Wagner Says His Uncle Killed One Of the Troopers

Gives New Version of the Murders of Two State Troopers From His Cell—Allegation of Farmer's Wife Led to Wagner's Arrest.

Belmont, N. Y., Sept. 27 (AP).—In a cell in the county jail, Wilmer Wagner, alleged slayer of two state troopers, declared that his uncle, Daniel Wagner, killed one of the troopers.

Wagner, who was arrested near Gaines, Pa., last night, gave this new version of the murders when he was interviewed by the press. He said that his uncle, William Wagner, were under arrest as material witnesses. Authorities, however, are skeptical.

Alertness of a farmer's wife led to Wagner's arrest. She became suspicious when he applied at her farm for work on the same day he obtained employment at the Allen farm near Gaines. She told the troopers last Friday, but it was not until yesterday that they investigated her story, she said.

A search of two weeks that led through desolate swampland and mountain woods was at an end today as Wilmer Wagner was lodged in jail here charged with the murder of State Troopers Robert Roy and Arnold T. Rasmussen at Canadea, September 8.

Wagner was captured near Gaines, Pa., by two troopers of the main officers who had doggedly followed a trail that led through New York and Pennsylvania.

It is expected that disposition will be made promptly of rewards totaling $4,250 which had been offered for the capture of Wagner. Governor Smith offered $2,000 on behalf of the state, the county of Allegany $1,000, members of Troop A., of the late police $1,000, and the Western New York Bus Line of Batavia $250.

Corporal George Southworth and trooper Polaski, who captured Wagner, had been working for three days preceding the capture. They had received a tip that Wagner was working on a farm near Gaines and watched the suspect carefully so as not to frighten him off. Wagner at first denied his identity but when he was taken to the home of a sister at Loge, Pa., both he and his sister admitted he was the man wanted.

UTOIST CANNOT DRIVE WHILE EATING GRAPES

That it is better for a driver to refrain from eating grapes while at the wheel was demonstrated near Marlborough last week when such an accident caused a Buick to take a swim in a brook, rather than across the bridge spanning it.

A New York city man driving a Buick sedan, while occupied with a juicy bunch of Hudson Valley grapes, failed to make the curve at Park's Hill, just beyond Cedar Hill cemetery, and plunged into the brook flowing beneath the bridge.

Mrs. Elizabeth G. Baker of New York city, the owner of the car, was the other occupant of the automobile. Neither Mrs. Baker nor her companion were injured, more than being shaken up. The Buick, practically a new machine, suffered only a flat tire in the mishap.

The car was pulled from the ditch by a Marlborough Garage service car and continued on its way to New York city.

SCHNEIDER CUP RACE IN ENGLAND NEXT YEAR

London, Sept. 27 (AP).—The foremost hope expressed by officials of the British air ministry today was that next year's Schneider cup race, which will be staged in England as a result of yesterday's British victory, will find teams from the United States, France and other European, South American countries entered so that the classic event will again assume a truly international aspect.

With the British now in possession of the trophy, next year's race probably will be held at Solent, the famous stretch of yacht racing waters between the Isle of Wight and the English mainland where the race was held in 1923.

Solent is where the victorious British plane, piloted by Flight Lieutenant S. N. Webster, was tested and is considered the best spot in England for the race.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF SENIOR CIRCUIT JUDGES

Washington, Sept. 27 (AP).—Ways and means of relieving congested federal court dockets and of expediting disposition of cases were discussed today at opening sessions here of the annual conference of Senior Circuit Judges, presided over by Chief Justice Taft.

The conference will continue four days with Attorney General Sargent on today's program to present the department of justice views on the condition of business in the federal courts.

17 Rum Ships Landed Cargoes

Valued at Millions in the United States Within the Last Year—Nineteen Were Sent by Canadian Rum Runners.

Philadelphia, Sept. 27 (AP).—Canadian rum runners have sent nineteen ships laden with liquor to the United States within the last year, according to M. J. Long, former wireless operator on the steamship Clackamas and now a federal prohibition agent.

All but two of these ships, the Clackamas and Bulko, Long says, have succeeded in landing their cargoes valued at "millions of dollars". Both the Clackamas and the Bulko were captured here after having landed part of their cargoes at Newark, N. J. The Clackamas was seized last Friday and the Bulko about two weeks ago.

Long came here yesterday in an attempt to identify four members of the crew of the Bulko who were to have had a hearing before a federal commission, but who failed to appear, forfeiting their bail for the second time since they were arrested on September 10. Twelve other members of the crew, who "jumped" their bail after their first hearing, are also at liberty.

The liquor seized, when the Bulko reached here, was only about one-fourth of the original $2,000,000 cargo. Long told local authorities, the remainder, he said, having been unloaded at Newark.

Jail Sentences For Assaultants

John Posen, Paul Hellie and Steve Ruby, three men who assaulted John Nagay at East Kingston Sunday, are in the Ulster county jail, having been sent there by Judge Walter Webber Monday evening following arraignment on a charge of assault. It was claimed that while Nagay was sleeping at his boarding house the three men came to his room and demanded his pay amounting to about $60. Nagay refused and one of the men struck him with a brick as he lay in bed.

When arraigned before Judge Webber, Posen was fined $30 and sentenced to the county jail for 30 days. Hellie and Ruby were fined $30 each and on failure to produce the fine were locked up for 30 days.

Cold Wave in The Middlewest

Kansas City, Sept. 27 (AP).—With the first general frost snapping at the western section of the upper Mississippi valley corn belt, the cold wave that started Sunday with snow in the Rocky mountains today tightened its grip on the middlewest.

Thermometers stood in the lower thirties in several western states early today, after heavy frosts yesterday in the Dakotas and northern Minnesota.

SIMPLE FUNERAL SERVICES FOR BARON VON MALTZAN.

Vollrathstru, Mecklenburg, Germany, Sept. 27 (AP).—The funeral of Baron Ago Von Maltzan, German ambassador to the United States, who was killed in an airplane accident last week, was held here today. Wreaths from President Coolidge and Secretary of State Kellogg were placed upon the late ambassador's grave by Jacob Gould Schurman, the American ambassador to Germany, who attended the funeral with Mrs. Schurman.

With a simple touching ceremony, the casket was borne through Cross-Lockow Castle grounds to the Baron's last resting place beside his mother on a nearby pine clad hill.

VILLAGE IS JEALOUS OF ITS FIRE DEPARTMENT

Buffalo, Sept. 27 (AP).—The village of Blasdell, a suburb of Buffalo, is jealous of its fire department. A dairy office caught fire last night and the bookkeeper, Henry Daller, tried to summon the Blasdell department, but found it had no telephone. Then he called the Lackawanna department, which responded.

After the fire had been extinguished, the Blasdell police arrested Daller, on a charge of turning in a false alarm, but this charge later was changed to malicious mischief. It is the contention of police that the bookkeeper had no authority to summon the out-of-town company.

TWO CASES IN POLICE COURT THIS MORNING

Gus McCue, arrested for public intoxication on Crown street on Monday, was discharged by Judge Shufeldt in police court today.

Hornby Dawson, a negro residing at 30 Martin's Lane, was fined $5 for driving an automobile Monday without the necessary license papers in his possession.

Naval Boards to Call Magruder

Committees Dealing With Naval Appropriations Will Call on Admiral Magruder For an Elaboration of His Ideas.

REAR ADMIRAL MAGRUDER.

Washington, Sept. 27 (AP).—Even should Secretary Wilbur finally decide not to take disciplinary action against Rear Admiral Thomas P. Magruder, the county hasn't heard the last of his magazine articles assailing both administration of the Navy Department and Congress for making appropriations in the manner suggested by the department.

Senators and representatives, both advocates and opponents of a big navy, have read the admiral's charges with care and they will insist that he be called before the committees dealing with naval appropriations for an elaboration of his ideas.

No Detailed Plan Available. The admiral, however, declared at Philadelphia where he is stationed as commandant of the Fourth Naval District, that he had no detailed plan available, his reorganization scheme being only outlined in the article.

Proponents of a large cruiser fleet are especially interested in the article, as they believe their campaign to balance the battle fleet with this type of craft will be greatly simplified if the necessary ships of this type can be constructed without heavy additional drain on the general fund of the treasury.

Most Substant Recommendations. Secretary Wilbur has ordered Admiral Magruder to submit his recommendations for naval administration improvement to the department. Some senators and representatives thought some of his views, as well as those of other high ranking officers as to changes of administration, might be reflected in the annual recommendation which the navy department will submit to the new congress in December.

The possibility of disciplinary action against the admiral apparently is ended. He has complied with the naval regulation which stipulates the submission to the secretary of articles on navy affairs by people in the service by recently dispatching a copy of his article to Secretary Wilbur.

President's Chief Desire. It was said at the White House that the President's chief desire is to build up a navy to the needs of the (Continued on Page Three)

Happiness Boys Reynolds, Heir to Millions, Missing At Junior League Ball at Armory

First Big Society Event of the Season Will Be the Spanish Ball of the Junior League to Be Held October 26—Benefit of Child Welfare Work.

On October 26th in the armory the Junior League of Kingston will give a most unusual and lively entertainment to be known as the Spanish Ball. The costumes and decorations will be unlike anything that has been seen before in Kingston.

The committee in charge has promised effects of great beauty and originality. There will be several entertainments featuring carrying out the Spanish atmosphere and the intention is to give the guests a vivid picture of gay life in sunny Spain.

In the interests of variety and to add spice to the evening the league has been fortunate enough to secure the well known Happiness Boys, probably the most popular entertainers of radio audiences in the country. They broadcast from WEAP "every Friday night at eight."

The child welfare work of the Kingston Junior League is pretty well known to the general public. They maintain a registered nurse, Mrs. Lois Gray, whose full time is engaged in preventative work among children of the pre-school age and in pre-natal care where needed. The members of the league supply the nurse with layettes and obstetrical packages to distribute to needy cases. They also cooperate with the medical and municipal authorities in any emergency having to do with child welfare in Kingston, such as the diphtheria clinics now being held at the armory where they have assisted those in charge by undertaking the transportation of the children to and from the clinics.

Because of the public's kindness to them in the past as well as because of the novel character of this entertainment it is expected that the Spanish Ball at the armory on October 26th will be a signal success.

REYNOLDS OFFICIALS THOROUGHLY ALARMED

New York, Sept. 27 (AP).—Carter Tiffany, vice president of the Reynolds Airways, Inc., said today that he and his associates were "thoroughly alarmed" concerning the disappearance of Richard J. Reynolds, youthful president of the company, and that the case had been placed in the hands of a private detective agency.

"We did not feel any concern about the absence of Mr. Reynolds," he said in a statement, "until the Monday following our plane crash."

Reynolds, 21 years old son of the late R. J. Reynolds, millionaire tobacco magnate, and one of five heirs to the $50,000,000 Reynolds estate, disappeared on the morning of September 16. On September 17 a Reynolds passenger plane crashed in New Jersey with a loss of seven lives.

The fact that Mr. Reynolds' automobile was found in the water," the Tiffany statement continued "was not particularly disturbing as we thought it had probably been stolen."

"When we did not hear from him at the beginning of the week we checked back and found that he had not kept any of his week-end appointments. We became thoroughly alarmed."

"These facts were communicated to Mr. Reynolds' stepfather, J. Edward Johnson, of Winston Salem, who came to New York with W. T. Huber of Baltimore, trustee of Mr. Reynolds' father's estate. They decided to hire a detective agency."

Reynolds, Heir to Millions, Missing

Limousine Taken From Long Island Sound, Phone Call To Police and Story of Broadway Night Club Hostess Paraphrase.

New York, Sept. 27 (AP).—An exclusive limousine, retrieved from the waters of Long Island Sound, a mysterious telephone call to police and the story of a Broadway night club hostess guided detectives today in their search for Richard J. Reynolds, 21-year-old heir to the Reynolds tobacco millions, missing for ten days.

Reynolds, whose interests ranged from the presidency of the Reynolds Air Ways, Inc., to his recent sponsorship of an unsuccessful play on Broadway, disappeared early on the morning of September 17. Neither friends, relatives nor private detectives have found a trace of him since, although he was not listed at the city's missing persons bureau nor were police summoned in the case.

Fear was inspired by the belief that he carried almost $6,000 in cash when he disappeared.

Reynolds was last seen in New York by Miss Marie Houston, hostess in the Charm Club, whom he accompanied to the Grand Central station about 6 a. m., September 17. Miss Houston left Reynolds, she said upon her return here, and traveled to St. Louis, where she visited relatives for a few days.

Drew $6,000 From Bank. Tracing Reynolds' movements detectives learned that on September 16 he drew about $6,000 from the bank, sent his servants back to his home in Winston Salem, N. C., and moved to a hotel in Manhattan. He instructed his chauffeur to leave his automobile at Mineola, L. I., and entering another car with John Graham of Winston Salem went to dinner at a Long Island roadhouse.

About midnight Reynolds and Graham appeared at the night club in Manhattan, using Graham's car on the trip. Graham did not accompany Reynolds and Miss Houston to the railroad terminal. Railroad schedules show the first train for St. Louis left Grand Central at 8:45 a. m.

Business associates of Reynolds, who were interested in the play "Half a Widow" which he backed, were unable to locate him next day. In consequence the production, unable to meet its expenses because of poor box office receipts, was closed. Friends and relatives then began their hunt for the missing man.

On the morning after Reynolds disappeared his yellow Rolls Royce limousine, which had awaited him at Mineola, was found submerged in Long Island sound near Port Washington. Reynolds apparently had not used it during the night of September 16, but it was found some distance from the place where it had been parked according to his instructions by the chauffeur.

Police were apprised of Reynolds' disappearance last night when an unidentified person called Nassau county headquarters and asked that they investigate "a murder in which a yellow Rolls Royce figured."

Reynolds, who was described as six feet tall and weighing about 210 pounds, is the oldest son of the late R. J. Reynolds for whom he was named and is one of five heirs to an estate estimated at $50,000,000, left by his father. He has been interested in aviation since 1924, is a pilot, and heads a commercial air company.

Eighth League Assembly Closes

With An Optimistic Note—Sound by Its Retiring President—First Reduction in Armaments in Near Future.

Geneva, Sept. 27 (AP).—The eighth assembly of the League of Nations, which has been considering disarmament and security problems for the past few weeks, came to a close today on an optimistic note. Sound by its retiring president Alberto Guani, Uruguayan ambassador to France.

The work done by the assembly, President Guani told the delegates in his closing address, was such that "in the near future we shall obtain the first reduction in armaments and a better definition of the guarantees of security."

The people of the New World represented in the league, who so long have been faithful to arbitration as the basis of their friendly relations and pacific development, he said, hailed with delight the discovery that the Locarno movement was bearing fruit and promised to be initiated by other powers than the Locarno signatories.

"Throughout your discussion has run the thread of a single idea," the retiring president told the delegates. "The development of international cooperation in every field was that idea. In the sphere of international law the people beyond the seas are making a most valuable contribution and it is at their insistence that you have decided to continue work in this direction."

No Word Received From Koennecke

Berlin, Sept. 27 (AP).—Where is Koennecke? Is the question on everybody's lips here today.

Inquiries are pouring over the phone into the Berlin office of the Associated Press from relatives and friends of Lieutenant Otto Koennecke and his two companions in the plane Germania. Ninety-six hours have passed without news since the plane took off at Angora, Turkey, Saturday morning in the direction of Aleppo and the aviators' wives are beginning to worry. Efforts made by aeronautical interests here and German representatives at Angora to ascertain the whereabouts of the fliers have been fruitless.

The belief that Lieutenant Koennecke must have made a landing at some inaccessible spot from which news would have difficulty in reaching Turkish authorities or the German Embassy at Angora is gaining ground.

Booth Petitioned Into Bankruptcy

New York, Sept. 27 (AP).—Herman W. Booth, recently expelled from the New York Stock Exchange under charges of unethical conduct, today was petitioned into bankruptcy by three women creditors whose claims total $48,000. They charge that Booth converted to his own use money they gave him for the purchase of securities.

The petitioners, Edith Perry, of Yonkers; Katherine T. Roach and Alexandrine Mangenheim, both of this city, also charge that Booth owes more than half a million dollars. The broker was expelled by the governing committee of the exchange when he refused to produce books showing a record of his financial transactions.

The agent, Jules Chossenoitte, was struck and mortally injured by a train while tending the switch lamps. Renee called a neighbor to attend her father and then, choking back her tears, worked the switches for five hours without a mistake until a substitute arrived.

Willis Beach and Blue Coupe Not At the Barracks

When the Three Men Arrive to Identify the Man they Saw Driving the Car Near the Scene of Where Dr. Lillendahl Was Slain.

Hammononton, N. J., Sept. 27 (AP).—The three men who said they saw a blue motor car dash out on the road near the scene where Dr. A. William Lillendahl was shot and killed on September 15, were at the state police barracks here today to try to identify the man they saw driving the car, but Willis Beach, whom they were to see, was not at the barracks.

Beach, a poultry raiser, under $5,000 bail as a material witness in the case, left his home in South Vineland early this morning, according to police information. He left in his blue coupe alone, and his son, Ray, said his father went to Atlantic City on business.

Chief of County Detectives Harold said that the police had not notified Beach that he was to be at the barracks today, and he may have gone from his home without the knowledge that he would be summoned.

Men Who Saw Blue Car. The three men who saw the blue car on the day of the killing are James A. Grant, William Driver and Paul Eldridge.

Grant and Driver are contractors operating under the name of the Grant-Driver Contracting Company. Eldridge is employed by the company as a machine operator and also as a chauffeur.

The three were on their way to Cape May the day of the killing to look over a railroad job on which they expected to submit a bid.

As they were traveling southeast on the road between Atsion and Hammononton at Goodspeed a blue car suddenly came out of the underbrush and almost struck their car. Eldridge veered to one side to avoid a collision and the blue car shot ahead and was soon out of sight around a curve.

Grant estimated that the spot where the car came out of the brush was about a half mile from where Dr. Lillendahl was found dead.

Had Gray Hair. The man who was driving the blue car was described by the men as having gray hair. Beach, who has figured prominently in the case, has gray hair. When questioned by the police regarding his movements on the day of the murder, Beach said he spent most of the afternoon with a dealer in monuments in Hammononton. This has been corroborated by the monument dealer.

The car was said by the authorities to answer the description of one owned by Willis Beach, Vineland poultry raiser, and a friend of the Lillendahls, who is free on $5,000 bail as a material witness. It was reported to have been seen shortly before noon the day of the killing by three men from Morrisville, Pa.

Chief of Atlantic City Detectives Frank Harold said the three men would be shown Beach's automobile today and would also face Beach.

Grants Short Interview. Mrs. Margaret Lillendahl, 41 year old widow of the physician, granted a short interview yesterday. She advanced the theory that drug addicts who had been treated by her husband, might have been the slayers.

Her story, as related to the authorities, has been that her husband was shot down by two negroes who robbed her. She is free on $25,000 bail as a material witness.

Twenty-five laborers continued to clear the dense underbrush from about the spot where the killing occurred in search of the slayer's pistol.

ATTENDANCE OF NEGROES AT SCHOOL CAUSES OUTBREAK

Gary, Ind., Sept. 27 (AP).—Approximately 200 Emerson High School pupils were absent from school today following demonstrations against the attendance of twenty-four negroes. Officials took no action in the hope they would return after the excitement had worn off.

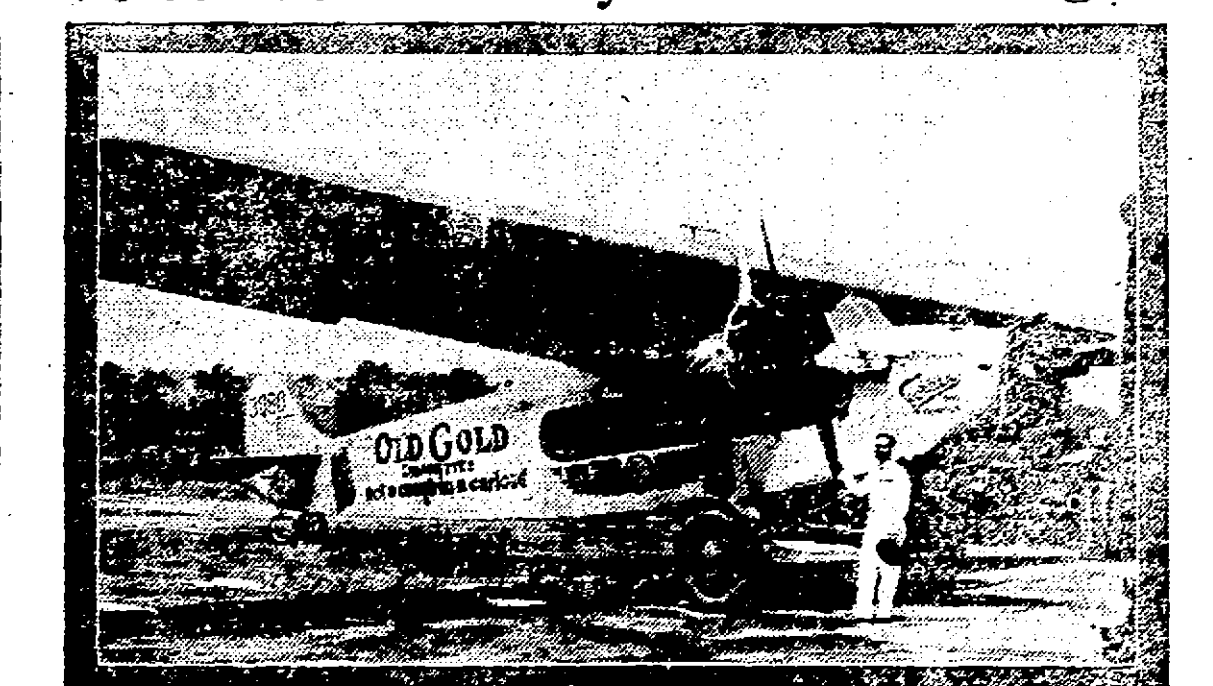

The football team which refused to report for practice yesterday afternoon, when protest meetings and parades were held, agreed to show up on the field today. Emerson High School has usually had two or three negroes in attendance, but the larger number this year caused an outbreak. Although there was no violence reported, police were on guard around the school and through the negro district.

PROMINENT ALBANY DRUG DEALER DIES

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 27 (AP).—Charles Gibson, head of the Gibson-Snow Company, wholesale dealers in druggists' supplies, died at his summer home at Keene Valley today, aged 72 years.

Death, which is believed to have been caused by heart disease, came to Mr. Gibson while he slept. He underwent a minor operation in this city in August, but was believed to have recovered. Mr. Gibson leaves a son, William Walker Gibson, and three daughters, the Misses Mary and Henrietta Gibson and Mrs. Charles Reister, all of Albany.

"Voice From the Sky" Heard in Kingston

Old Gold's "voice from the sky" was heard over Kingston and vicinity on the ground. These powerful amplifiers through which the sound is transmitted from the clouds, have a range of several miles from an altitude of 3,000 feet. The plane was flying so high Monday that the throb of the motors was scarcely audible but the "voice from the sky" could be plainly heard.

After circling over the city for some time the big Fokker headed north and disappeared with a musical program being broadcasted.

The plane used is a huge ship, a Fokker, an exact duplicate of the plane that carried Commander Byrd to the North pole. It is driven by three motors, weighs six tons, and carries a crew of five men.

Many at first thought the plane was the small Waco which has been engaged in carrying passengers over the city for some time and were surprised when the voice spoke to them. As the plane circled over the city and people began to realize that it was "the voice from the sky" which they heard they deserted their work and watched the plane gracefully circle several times while the message of Old Gold cigarettes was broadcasted. The clearness with which the message was heard on the ground and the absence of the motors' roar indicated that the plane was flying at a great height. The plane is travelling from city to city broadcasting an Old Gold program and impressing the slogan "In a cough in a carload" on the public.

London, Sept. 27 (AP).—Scores of people are believed to have been lost in Alpine floods which inundated the entirety of Switzerland, the western section of Switzerland, and the upper Trentino, Italy, after tremendous rains over the week end.
Especially affected are those vilupper Rhine itself is amazingly swollen and the lake is fifteen feet above normal.

The actual total fatalities are unknown and cannot be reliably known until the communications broken by the flood are restored.

Latest reports say the situation is improving somewhat, and a sudden drop in temperature in the mountain regions has checked the melting of the snow which largely contributed to the floods.

Leichtenstein which with an area of 58 square miles is one of the smallest principalities in the world, has almost overwhelmed by the inundation. The worst feature of the flood in that region was the collapse of a 5,000 foot concrete dam on the Leichtenstein Swiss border, allowing the waters of the Rhine to sweep over the tiny principality.

Many villages are under several feet of water and some of the inhabitants, caught by the rushing torrents before they could escape to the mountain side, are believed to have perished. The Leichtenstein government has appealed to its neighbors for quick aid. Property damage here will run into the millions and tens of thousands of cattle were drowned.

street, Saugerties, recently awarded scholarship in the Ithaca Conservatory of Music, has decided to continue a course of voice culture in the Damrosch School of Music in New York city instead of in the upstate institution. His decision to discontinue attendance at the Ithaca Conservatory after spending several days there was made when he learned that his course there would compromise the study of foreign tongues, interesting to Mr. Heermance.

Miss Ruth Broedel of Saugerties will study music under the supervision of the celebrated Rollo Anson Salcott at the Williams School of her course.

Clinics at Saugerties

Saugerties officials are now planning for a series of toxin-antitoxin clinics to be held at the municipal building, corner of Main and West Bridge streets, beginning Friday, October 28. Last year 270 children were inoculated and as records show that there are approximately 500 in the village of Saugerties who have not been made immune to diphtheria, it is expected that many more will be treated this year. Children who have previously received three inoculations will not have to attend the clinics this year.

Naval Boards to Call Magruder

ation and not to reduce expenditures but to spend money appropriated in the most efficient way.

He was said to be without information as to whether the navy actually is over officered, but believes it well to have plenty of officers on hand, particularly in view of the length of time required to train officers.

It was said that Mr. Coolidge does not consider that maintenance of a large staff of officers in Washington is of much consequence unless they have nothing to do.

Attitude On Magruder's Points.
As to the points raised by Admiral Magruder in his Saturday Evening Post article, the President was represented as believing some of the officers' suggestions would be helpful in increasing the efficiency of the navy and that others were worthy of investigation.

He also was said to be of the opinion the article was written with a sincere desire to improve conditions in the navy and he would be gratified if good resulted from its publication.

For a while, after Admiral Magruder's article was published, it appeared that he might be disciplined for failure to submit it to Secretary Wilbur beforehand, but yesterday it was announced at the navy department that there would be no disciplinary action. At the same time it was stated that Mr. Wilbur desired Admiral Magruder to place before the department his plan for improving the navy.

Little Boy Says He Killed Girl

New York, Sept. 27 (AP).—A startling development in the investigation of the murder of seven-year-old Angelina Constanzo developed in the arrest today of William Saltarelli, 10-year-old boy, who was said by police to have confessed killing the girl with a shotgun.

Biaggio Arselio, 62, was arrested after Angelina's body had been discovered, and was held in homicide court for a further hearing.
Police said that Saltarelli told them that he had knocked over the shotgun while playing in the Constanzo apartment and that it was discharged while the muzzle pointed toward the girl.

SLEEPING SICKNESS MARKS ITS VICTIMS

More than 5,000 people have died from encephalitis lethargica, the so-called sleeping sickness, in England and Wales in the last five years, according to an announcement recently made by the minister of health. Health authorities in England are expressing alarm over the encephalitis situation even though the number of cases has been reduced from 5,000 in 1923 to 2,267 in 1926. It has been estimated that about 30 per cent of all cases die, and that 70 per cent of the recoveries show various disease manifestations ranging from mild conduct disorder to complete paralysis. The London county council has made efforts to provide for the treatment of partly recovered victims, but this meets the needs of only a comparatively small group. It has been pointed out to the home secretary that there is need of providing an institution where children can receive special treatment, for its after effects are recognized as a contributing cause of delinquency. Active need of scientific research to combat this scourge is urged.

Queer Beliefs Still Existing in Norway

That superstition is still strong in some parts of Norway is plainly shown by a report from a governmental official who visited Lofoten in northern Norway. In a desolate place, where he took a rest, he found the body of a dog nailed to a birch tree and hanging with head downward. A closer investigation of this uncanny find revealed a piece of wood nailed to the tree under the dog and bearing the inscription: "I give you, oh my faithful dog, to death. Kneeling and in sorrow, I kill you and nail you to this tree with incantation that all wild beasts shall lose their teeth and leave my cows and reindeers in peace."

In all probability, one of the Lapps has here brought the spirits and followed the tradition of thousands of years ago when favorite animals were sacrificed to gain the favor of the Great Spirits of Nature.

GIRD BECOMES STEPMOTHER TO 13 AND A GRANDMOTHER

Pittsfield, Mass., Sept. 27 (AP).—Becoming stepmother to 13 children is one of the responsibilities assumed by 16 year old Louise J. Doran, who yesterday became the bride of Charles Robinson, 52, at a ceremony performed in St. Joseph's Church. Mr. Robinson has a baker's dozen of children by a previous marriage and as he also is a grandfather, his youthful wife also automatically qualifies as one of the youngest grandmothers on record hereabouts.

An appropriate program has been arranged for this evening in the church parlors and there will be several addresses. The members and friends of the church are intended to attend. At the close of the program refreshments will be served.

Battlefield Will Become a Park

Anniversary of Burgoyne's Defeat to Mark Transfer of Part of Saratoga Battlefield to State of New York—Elaborate Program Planned.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 27 (AP).—The Saratoga Battlefield, where American soldiers turned the tide of the Revolution and of their country's history, is to become a state park on Sunday, October 8, when New York celebrates the 150th anniversary of Burgoyne's defeat.

A large section of the field has been purchased and restored by the state and the remainder is under contract so that eventually, persons interested in its acquisition hope, a entire ground over which the two armies of Saratoga were waged will be owned by the people.

The day will be celebrated with patriotic and patriotic addresses, by governors, representatives of Great Britain, France, Germany and Poland, and state officials will take part in the exercises, which will be marked by a historical pageant and the formal dedication of the field as a park.

Salute of 150 Guns.
Dr. Alexander C. Flick, state historian, announced the order of events today. At 9 o'clock in the morning, the 150 gun salute will be fired by the 53rd Infantry and the 10th Infantry will be a salute of 150 guns, one for every year that has slipped by since 1777.

As the echo of the gunfire dies away among the Hudson hills, members of historical societies will make pilgrimages to Fort Mifflin, General Poor's headquarters, the Great Camp, the old cemetery and other places in the annals of the battle. The guides, dressed in the uniform of the Continental army, will be members of the Saratoga Chapter, Sons of the Revolution, Albany; William Lloyd, Chapter, Sons of the Revolution, Troy; and Cornelius Van der Veer, Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, Schenectady.

At 10 o'clock the State of New Hampshire presents and dedicates the monument it has erected on the field in honor of its soldiers who fought under Gates. The dedication address will be made by Waldo Brown, secretary of the New Hampshire Monuments Commission, and there will also be a speech by Harry B. Ciley, president of the commission.

Governor to Welcome Executives.
The official sesquicentennial program starts at 11 o'clock. Adolph Ochs, honorary president of the Saratoga Celebration Committee and publisher of the New York Times, speaks first. Governor Smith will welcome the chief executives of Vermont, New Hampshire and Connecticut.

cut and the representatives of the foreign nations. He will then accept the New Hampshire monument on behalf of New York state.

John E. Weeks, governor of Vermont, will discuss "Vermont and the Battle of Saratoga" and Governor John H. Trumbull of Connecticut will talk on that state's contribution to the victory.

Words of greeting will be spoken by F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war in charge of aviation; by the spokesmen of Great Britain, France, Germany and Poland; by Ganson Depew, state regent of the Sons of the American Revolution; and by Mrs. Alfred J. Brouseau of Washington, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

State to Accept Ground.
At the dedication of the field as a public park, Mayor George Slingerland of Mechanicville, chairman of the Advisory Board on Battlefields and Historic Sites, will outline the work of acquiring and restoring the field. Alexander Macdonald, Commissioner of Conservation, will accept the ground on behalf of the state.

The program will be concluded with a massing of the flags of the forty-eight states. Dr. Frank P. Graves, commissioner of education, will be master of ceremonies for this episode, reading the names of the states in the order of their adoption of the Federal Constitution and of their admission to the Union.

The historical pageant will be held on the battlefield in the afternoon.

NEW YORK LEADS IN LEADERSHIP TRAINING.

Pennsylvania, according to the report of the International Council of Religious Education, has almost double the Sunday school enrollment of New York state, but the Empire State leads the Union in its Leadership Training work. That means that there are more teachers and prospective teachers in course of training for efficiency in Sunday school and Week-Day Religious Educational activities in New York than can be found in any other state.

Therefore, New York State's Sunday School World is naturally taking unusual interest in the approaching state meet of workers in religious education scheduled for Buffalo on October 12-14. The comprehensive three-day program presents a galaxy of speakers and instructors worthy the attention of those who would make contact with the latest and most approved methods and materials for schools and for teachers of religious education. Several thousand delegates and visitors are planning to attend the convention sessions.

Advance programs are now ready and may be secured, without charge, by addressing the New York State Sunday School Association, 80 Howard street, Albany, N. Y.

WOODSTOCK.

Woodstock, Sept. 25.—Mrs. Lansing and her sister-in-law are erecting a new dwelling on Bearsville road, just across the bridge. The framing is nearly finished, and the building bids fair to be attractive.

It is rumored that a new three-story business building will soon be begun on Rock City Road, on the lot recently sold by Longyear to Woodstock Lodge, Inc. It is to be a manufacturing bakery, something the village of Woodstock greatly needs.

The Woodstock Tea Room has closed temporarily preparatory to moving into new quarters on Rock City Road, in the annex to the Old Woodstock Inn. The new room is to be twice as large as the one the Tea Room has been using. Steam is being installed in the new building. The Tea Room has had the most successful year in its history, and is doing more business now than it did in June. All Woodstock residents are hoping that next spring will see Mrs. Wyckoff in charge of the new Tea Room and Grill, which is nearly ready for use.

The cider season is upon us. Chauncey Derrall and C. P. Reynolds are operating the Derrall press and a good quality is being turned out from the early apples. Contrary to what was expected, the apple crop in Woodstock township is proving to be both plentiful and of good quality. The Derrall press is just back of the new memorial tablet erected by State Horticultural Society in honor of the discovery of the Jonathan apple. The memorial is a good one, and so is the cider produced, and of it. The memorial is hard—of a big granite boulder. But give the cider time—it will get there.

SAINT REMY.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE TREE TRUNKS

The trunks of the trees in the woods had been growing very restless. They wanted to go away somewhere. They were tired of the woods—at last for a time.

They did want a change very badly. "Ten years," said one old trunk of a pine tree, the very name we have today.

"No people ever go away without trunks! It does seem a pity, I think, to be called the very name of trunk without going anywhere at all."

And the tops of the trees began to move and shiver. But the trunks still went on musing.

After awhile the tops of the trees began whispering very excitedly to the trunks that held them up in the air.

This is what they said: "Let us tell you what to do."

"We will call to our friends the clouds and ask the rain to come down on the earth, and we'll ask the north wind to blow, and then you'll get a complete change of air."

"It will be quite, quite cold, and then when you've had enough of that,

Old Mr. North Wind.

We'll see what we can do with Mr. Sun and Mr. South Wind."

But the trunks of the trees said that their names meant travel.

Then the branches began speaking again, and this time they won.

For they told the trunks that all people meant by travel was to have a change—and the trunks only went along, too, because the people had to leave their homes and take silly clothes along with them.

Then the trunks of the trees saw what it all meant—all the talk about trunks and travel and changes of air. And a change of air they certainly did get.

Old Mr. North Wind had a fine time and blew a perfect gale, which he thinks is the best fun in the world. He even broke some of the grown-ups' shutters off their houses, which was very bad of him, but he was on a wild sort of a time.

It was seldom that the tops of the trees let him blow quite so hard, as they usually get rather tired waving around with him.

And the rain came down and poured all over the earth, and the flowers had all the drinks they wanted, and the streams filled up for later times when the birds and animals would come for drinks and swims.

As for the grown-ups, they didn't think it was a nice storm at all.

But the trunks certainly did have a fine change!

For several days it was bitterly cold, and the air was just as different as though they had gone way, way, way off traveling.

And they thanked their nice branches for the good time they had had, and old Mr. North Wind was just as grateful as he could be!

"Familiarity Breeds—"

When Charles returned to school in the fall he found that his class had a new teacher. He remarked that he was going to like school now, because the new teacher wasn't cross like the old one.

After a few days he was asked if he still liked his new teacher.

"No!" he said. "She must be getting acquainted with us, because she was mad as the dickens today."

Caveman Stuff

Mother sent little Harry to take his smaller sister safely to the kindergarten. He was back sooner than she expected.

"Well, dear," she said, "did you treat Mary like a little lady, as I asked you to?"

"Now," replied the youngster disgustedly, "we can't that lady-and-gentleman stuff, an' I chased her most of the way."

Proved It

Tom—You crook! Those cards are marked.

Jerry—I'm no crook and these cards aren't marked. See these aces in my sleeve? Well, if the cards were marked I wouldn't have to have 'em there.

Mean Thing!

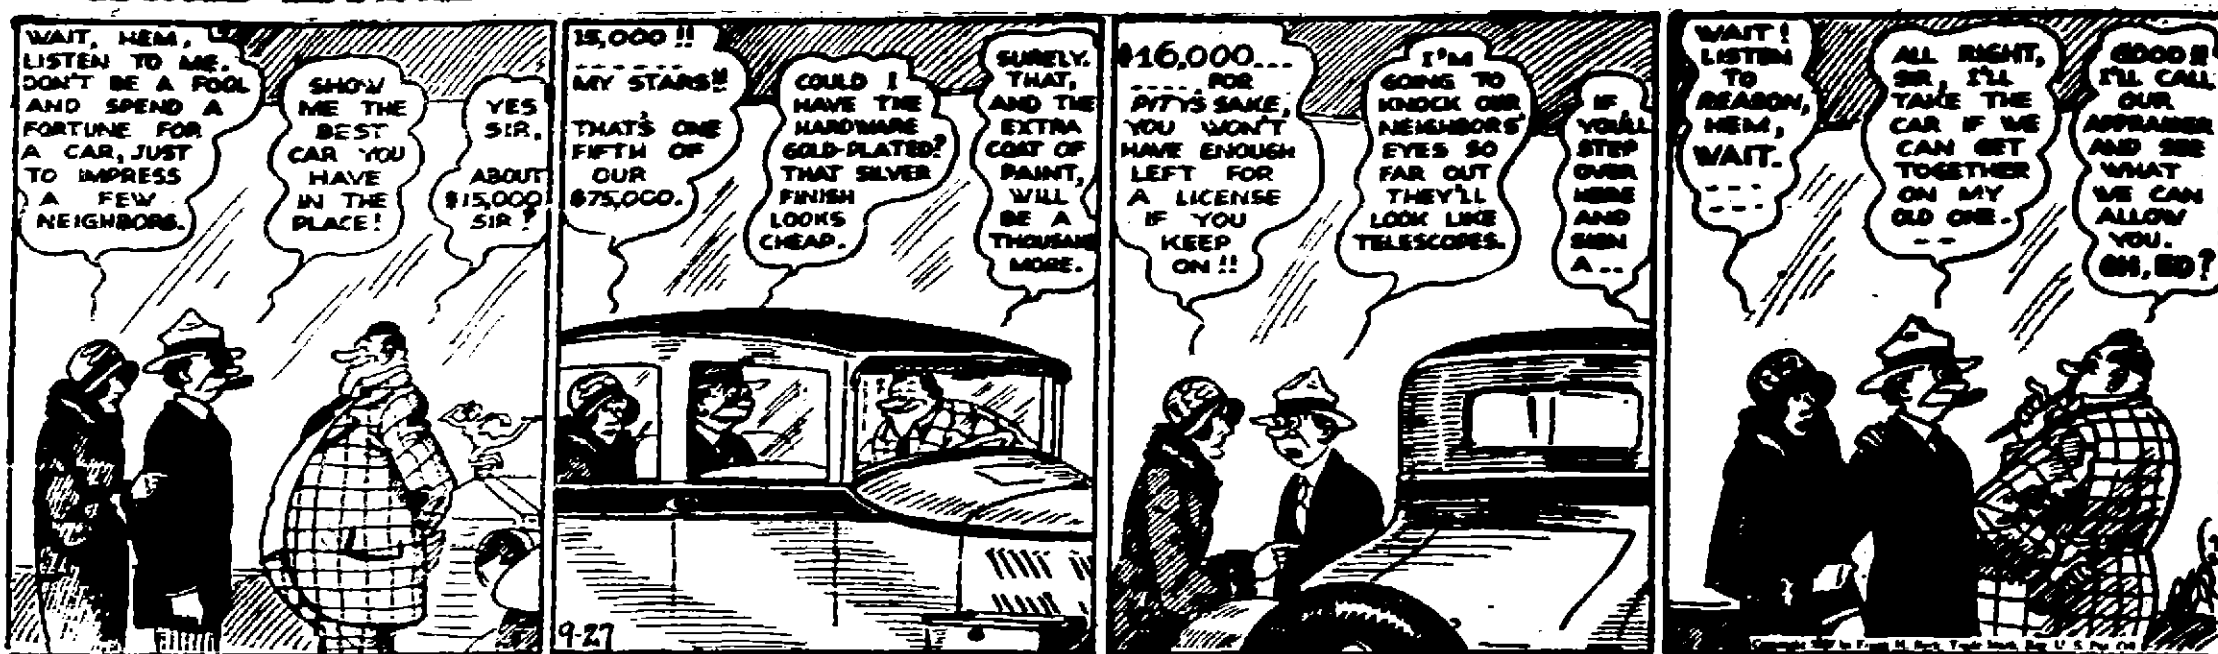

Pecche the Steeno—Aren't men silly, though?

Tillie the Manicist—They're awful! Lots of 'em trim their nails on the left hands and then expect me to knock off half when I do the other for 'em!

Two DETROITS would fit into "DUNLOP CITY"

BEFORE Detroit started to make motor-cars, Dunlop had founded the pneumatic tire industry.

Thanks to the automobile, both Detroit and "Dunlop City" have grown tremendously.

Now Detroit reaches out over 52,686 acres, while "Dunlop City" covers over 100,000 acres.

And even greater than the size of "Dunlop City," is Dunlop's world-wide reputation for building uniformly supreme Dunlop Tires.

Supreme quality made possible Dunlop's great size. In turn, Dunlop's great size makes possible this same supreme quality, at lower prices.

You can expect more of Dunlops.

Conservatives to Select Chieftain

Canadian Representatives Will Decide on Permanent Chieftain to Lead Forces of Opposition in the Dominion House of Commons.

Ottawa, Sept. 27 (AP)—Canadian interest is focused on the Conservative convention to be held in Winnipeg next month. At this meeting, which opens in the Prairie City on October 1, a permanent chieftain will be selected to lead the forces of the Opposition in the Canadian House of Commons.

From every one of the nine provinces of the Dominion, from every important city and rural district extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and from as far north as Dawson City in the Yukon Territory, which adjoins Alaska, delegates—men and women—will assemble in Winnipeg next month.

More than 7,000 people are expected to attend the Conservative rally. Of this total, approximately 1,600 will be entitled to vote for a leader to succeed Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, who resigned nearly a year ago following the defeat of the Conservative Party in the general election in 1926.

Each of the 245 constituencies electing representatives to the Dominion Parliament will send five delegates to the Winnipeg meeting. The various Provincial Conservative organizations will also send "delegates at large". These latter delegates will come largely from Ontario and Quebec, as the number selected by each province may only equal the number of members which the particular province is entitled to elect to the House of Commons. Every Conservative newspaper in the Dominion has, in addition, been invited to nominate a delegate, with full voting powers. Conservative members and defeated candidates in the 1926 election, Conservative Senators and Privy Councillors will form the balance of delegates to the rally.

Two Systems Suggested:
One question which the convention will be called upon to decide is the system to be followed in the election of a leader. Two systems—both with its advocates—have been suggested. The first of these suggestions is that the candidate receiving the smallest vote should be automatically retired; and by such a process of elimination eventually narrow the selection to a choice between two. The second suggestion

The experience of these daring men is convincing proof that for utmost speed, power and, above all, dependability, use Champions.

PUZZLE BABY'S CASE IS ENDED

Cleveland's famous "puzzle baby" case came to an end when Judge Carl V. Weygandt (lower left), decreed that the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith (pictured above), must accept infant girl that Mrs. Smith nursed while in hospital. Smiths claim their offspring is a boy. The nurse, Ruth Meyer (lower right), was important witness at hearing.

is that all candidates nominated may remain in the voting until one of the nominees for leadership receives a clear majority over all.
Will a Conservative platform be drawn up and adopted at the coming meeting as was done at the Liberal convention in 1919 when the present Liberal Premier, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, was chosen to lead his party? This is a question repeatedly asked by political observers. Opinion is divided on this point; but in the closest circles of the Conservative party the consensus of opinion is that the Winnipeg meeting will not adopt and publish a party platform. The course likely to be followed will be the issue of a manifesto, coupled with the passing of a large number of resolutions.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By the Associated Press.)
New York.—Gene Tunney has got a raise with his million. Longshoremen now earn $6.50 a day instead of $6. Gene is an honorary member of the Union and entitled to a working card.
Tarrytown, N. Y.—The flag has been up a Pocantico Hills for the anniversary of the most eventful day of John D. Rockefeller's life—the day when he got his first job in Cleveland 72 years ago. Otherwise he observed the anniversary by playing golf.
New York.—Colonel Sam Park entertains no hope for a salary increase from Uncle Sam, so he's finding consolation in golf. The colonel is vice consul at Biarritz and is paid $4 a year. Before making lots of money in Biarritz real estate he put himself on easy street by lumber and oil in Texas. He's visiting New York after his tour of duty plus crossing of the Atlantic. He lost count after the fourth.

Hoboken, N. J.—William Gray, stone cutter, is in the hoosegow voluntarily to avoid extravagance. He walked into the police station, said he had been on a bit of a spree and desired to be locked up lest he spend a legacy that was due. He expects to be normal in a day or so and bank the legacy. William is a Scot.

New York.—One reason given by Captain G. Duncan C. MacLeod, Laird of Raasay, an island in the Hebrides, for his visit to New York is that he is sick of Scotch whiskey and desired to be where it is not so plentiful.

Chicago.—A simple plan for farm relief is offered by Henry Stude. "Everybody eat six slices of white bread a day." Mr. Stude is president of the American Bakers' Association.

Omaha.—Babe Ruth has made a record, even though the baseball season has not ended. Babe has laid an egg a day for 151 days. Babe is a white leghorn hen.

New York.—For beauty, especially blondes, go west young man. Bernhard Cesterman, Swedish painter, seeking nordic pulchritude, expects he'll have to go to the middle-west. But he intends to look over New York girls first. He'll find all of them already painted.

ESOPUS.
Sept. 27.—Choral Club members will meet at the Methodist Episcopal Church Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock sharp. Leslie Mott, Clarence Bowman, Miss Amy Smith and the Rev. Edith E. Dewey will be ready with cars to take all to the home of Douglas Kennedy. The Choral Club will rehearse at the Kennedy home, then have a short business meeting and social. Everyone interested is heartily welcome.

Sunday, October 2, all members and friends are urged to attend the Methodist Episcopal Church. Services will be as follows: 10 a. m., Sunday school, 11 a. m., divine worship. The pastor will incorporate in the sermon the program for the winter activities. 7 p. m., Epworth League, 7:30 p. m., Dr. George Beaton Smith, presiding elder of the Kingston district, will preach. All who have ever heard Dr. Smith will wish to be present. After his message there will be Holy Communion service.

Trees Threatened By Caterpillars

Dr. E. P. Felt, state entomologist, of the New York State Museum, at Albany, reports that a large area of hemlocks north of Thompson, Jefferson County, was defoliated last summer by greenish measuring worms, and at the present time the yellowish brown, tan-marked moths are flying in the woodlands and depositing millions of minute greenish eggs on the hemlock leaves or beneath bark scales.

These eggs remain over winter, the young measuring worms hatching about the middle of June and feeding until the middle of August. The conditions are favorable for the continuance of the destructive work another season. One stripping will kill some hemlock trees and two to almost certain death to those trees. An area of some 2000 acres was defoliated the past season, and the probabilities are that the insect is somewhat prevalent in the forested sections of the state.

This pest was very injurious to hemlocks in particular in Michigan, Wisconsin and Ohio in 1924 and 1925. It attacks balsam, white pine, white birch, soft maple and beech as well as hemlock and presumably a number of other forest trees.

Some idea of the abundance of this insect and therefore the probabilities of serious damage another season may be gained by looking for the moths. These have a wing spread of about an inch and a half, flit slowly in the air and rest upon the tree trunks with the wings partly expanded. It is then easy to see two brown, irregularly angled lines on the front wings and one on the hind wings. It is suggested that specimens be sent in for identification with a statement as to the local abundance of the moths.

They stayed one week in Kentucky. While there they attended the American Railway Association Convention which was held in the new, modern, beautiful Hotel Kentucky.

Seven hundred people were in attendance from all parts of the United States and Canada. It was said to be the biggest and best convention ever held by this association. The ladies of the party were delightfully entertained on Monday by a sight-seeing trip, on Tuesday, a luncheon and on Wednesday, a boat ride up the beautiful Ohio to Rose Island Park where at 6 p. m. a banquet was served, followed by a moonlight sail back to Louisville, where large busses were waiting to convey the party back to their hotel.

Previous to this sail a picture was taken of this party on the banks of the Ohio at Louisville. The party consisted of 321 people. The Kentucky State Fair, which was held the same week, was another big attraction. They travelled over 2,000 miles. They report fine weather and a very interesting trip.

Sun's Immensity
The sun, which is by no means a large star, as stars go, could easily contain within its boundaries the entire earth and moon and the distance between them, says the Scientific American. In fact, three systems like that consisting of earth and moon could be strung out in a row through the center of the sun, without coming within 30,000 miles of its surface on either side.

The worst thing about a competitor is that he will not let us sleep in the daytime.

Once more he pressed her to his frame, And said, all reason fleeing: "My spectacles are busted, Nance. But what care I for seeing?"

Ever knew better than to try tempting Adam with anything she had cooked.

A young man proposed to a young girl on a moonlight beach, and then he hastened to suggest a long engagement. "Of course, darling, we can't marry for some time," he said, as he clasped the girl to his heart with all his strength. "I am too poor to marry now. But, oh, my treasure, if you will only wait! How I'd struggle then to gain a fortune and lay it at your feet! Yes, love, if you'd consent to wait! I'd struggle as man never struggled before—as I."

But the girl withdrawing her lips from his, said firmly: "No, George, I'll marry you now, and then you'll have to struggle."

The trouble with most of us is that we're too fond of people who agree with us and with food that doesn't.

Man (leaving street car): "Dis street car service is rotten, always over-crowded!"
Conductor: "You had a seat, didn't you?"

Man: "Yes, but my wife had to stand all the way."

"Come here quick, sheriff. There's a necking party going on down in the woods."

"Who's havin' it?"
"Five cowboys and a horse thief."

A good memory test is trying to recall the things you worried about last week.

Minister: Do you take this woman for butter or for wurst?
Groom: Oh, liver alone. I never sausage nerve.

Doc: "Nonsense! You couldn't buy a dangerous operation for forty dollars."

Assure Jobs To Students

Men Who Make Good in Short-Poultry Course at College Are in Demand, Says State College Professor.

"Every man who makes good in the short courses in poultry given here this winter and who has had sufficient practical experience is assured a job if he wants one," says Professor James E. Rice, head of the poultry department at the New York state college of agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y. "Every year the poultry department has many more chances to recommend men for jobs than it has men for the jobs."

The winter courses, given free to residents of New York state, begin this year on November 9 and last for twelve weeks until February 17. The courses in poultry are intended for both commercial and side-line poultrymen, but Professor Rice has in mind the professional courses when he makes this promise, he says.

The professional courses include the care and management of young chicks, laying flocks, and breeders; care and operation of incubators and brooders; poultry accounts; construction of poultry houses and appliances; preparing and handling of dressed birds and eggs; judging; and other problems such as caponizing and balancing rations.

The other courses offered in the winter session at the college are flower growing, vegetable growing, dairy industry, and manufacturing dairy products, fruit growing, general agriculture and power machinery and farm mechanics. This course in power machinery and farm mechanics is offered this year for the first time. A complete announcement telling about the courses and containing enrollment blanks will be mailed to those requesting them from the secretary of the college of agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y.

Pioneers in Industry
The first lead pencil manufacturer in the United States was William Monroe of Concord, Mass., who, in 1815, invented a process by which he pulverized and mixed the material and increased it in cedar holders. He was very successful in selling his product and continued the business for a year and a half, when he was obliged to give it up on account of the difficulty in obtaining raw materials. Another pioneer in the industry was Joseph Dixon, who commenced business in 1827.

His efforts resulted as follows: 'I am endeavoring to pass an English examination. If I answer 20 questions, I shall pass. If I answer 12, I may pass. God help me!'"—Harper's Magazine.

Returning Tourists Testify by Their Lavishly Furled Coats That Elaboration is the Key-note of Coat as Well as Dress Styles.

New York.—Those of us who are not always privileged to be eyewitnesses at the important openings, either in Paris or any of our big centers, get a great deal of first-hand knowledge by window-shopping—or better still, when possible—by visiting the wharves when the big liners dock. Women are naturally given to landing in their smartest costumes, and one is permitted many glimpses of French clothes and, more important still, the manner in which they are worn.

Even early in September, one felt confident that furs were to be an all-important trimming, for surely a more lavish use of them could not be imagined. Each arriving

This goes for fur trimmings as well as other types.

Collars, so lately inclined to skimpiness, have developed all sorts of interesting traits, and refuse to end where collars usually end, but taper on to the waist-line or below. Entire animals are made use of, not only for collar trimmings but for cuffs as well, and borders engage one's attention, not only because they invariably suggest extravagance, but because they are cut along such extraordinary lines.

The black coat appears to be the favorite, and is often topped by a brilliant blue hat. In the opinion of some experts, a lively navy or king blue is the color par excellence for millinery. One easily guesses that with the coming of crisp days one will feel inclined to a brilliant hat, especially since so many of them drape the head as snugly as a bandanna, and have indeed that rakish one-sided line.

APPETIZING DISHES

There are so many common things which we serve every day without thought of the possibilities of variety which will make them surprisingly attractive dishes.

Take the ordinary cottage cheese which is so well liked when well seasoned with cream and butter. Add a few finely minced olives and a half of a green pepper, serve on lettuce with a dab of good salad dressing and one has a salad.

Sometimes prepare the cheese with rich cream and serve with a spoonful of rich preserve like bar le duc currents or strawberries or gooseberry preserve.

Did you know that cauliflower was especially delicious served uncooked with a bit of onion and fresh ripe tomato with salad dressing as a salad? When cooking green peas save the pods and cook them for a few minutes in just water to simmer, pour off the liquor and use that to cook the peas. The flavor will be more pronounced and the vitamin content will be increased.

Add a teaspoonful of sugar to the suspension of peas if they are not very sweet; do this when they are cooking and the sweetness will seem to be natural.

A teaspoonful of sugar added to almost any roast or stew will add flavor, color and make it more attractive to the taste.

Use grapefruit for the breakfast table sweetened with a spoonful or two of honey or maple syrup.

Tongue and Spinach Salad.—Mix two cupfuls of cooked spinach, one cupful of sliced cold boiled tongue, one-half of a cupful of celery, salt and coriander to taste. Mix with enough boiled dressing to moisten and pack into small molds. Chill, turn out on lettuce and serve with a mayonnaise dressing.

Creamed Ham on Toast.—Take one cupful of chopped ham, add to it a cupful of rich white sauce, and when piping hot serve on softened buttered toast. Nice for a supper or luncheon dish. Serve with a plain lettuce salad with French dressing.

This week ... get Rinso and save work next washday

Mrs. S. Netburn, 73 Broadway, Says

"I'm so proud of my washing when I see it hanging on the line, because it's always so white. Yet I get it out so nice and early. The reason is that I use Rinso to soak the clothes clean. Then I only need rub the most soiled spots with my hands, rinse away the loosened dirt and my wash is all done. The clothes seem to wear better, too, because I don't rub them threadbare on a washboard as I used to."

MRS. S. NETBURN,
73 Broadway,
Kingston, N. Y.

Millions use Rinso. Thousands write us letters like this.

Neighbors will envy your whiter wash—no scrubbing—no boiling—so clothes last longer

YES, just that—soaked clean! Soaked whiter and brighter than you could get them the old scrub-and-rub way!

Forget about the washboard—you don't need it. Never mind boiling, either. Rinso whitens without boiling—guaranteed!

Watch dirt float off

This amazing granulated soap is all you need on washday. It makes even the hardest water soft and soapy all through. The creamy suds loosen dirt and stains so they float off by themselves. The wash is left spotless and sparkling—without you ever iron!

No other laundry soap rinses out so quickly, so completely as Rinso. Best of all, it takes the dirt with it as it rinses. That's why it's called Rinso!

Saves hands—clothes, too

Washday hands—red and coarsened—are the result of endless washboard rubbing. But this soak-and-rinse way saves your hands.

Saves the clothes, too! No need to rub things thin against a board. The most soiled parts come clean with a gentle rub or two between the fingers.

And Rinso is so safe. Contains no acids or bleaches of any description. Economical, too—it's not fluffy chips but closely packed granulated soap.

Try soaking clothes clean this very week. Follow easy directions on package for economy and best results.

Guaranteed by the makers of Lux—Lever Bros. Co.

Ideal in washers
The makers of 30 leading machines recommend Rinso because it's so wonderful in washers. Try it just once and see!

Harvest Supper At the Y.W.C.A.

Plans of Year's Work Outlined by Committee—Oration for Miss Jane Van Eiten, General Secretary, and Miss Frances Beebe, Girl Reserve Secretary.

Monday evening the Y. W. C. A. Gym presented a very pretty and a very lively picture, the occasion being the "Harvest Supper," at which time both the general secretary, Miss Jane Van Eiten, and the new Girl Reserve secretary, Miss Frances Beebe, made their first official appearance. Each received an ovation.

This Harvest Supper was to get together at the beginning of the Y. W. season, the trustees, members of the board of directors and chairmen of standing committees with their committees to outline the year's work and become acquainted.

Seldom has the Y. W. Gym been more attractively decorated with the big overhead lights veiled with long streamers of yellow and orange crepe paper, window hangings of the same color, tables with yellow-flowered covers and decorations consisting of vases of calandulas and yellow candles, the speakers' table having the special distinction of a very artistic fruit centerpiece.

There was a fine and enthusiastic turnout of all but the trustees whose absence was greatly regretted. Mrs. G. F. Rice, president of the board of directors, presided; peppy and appropriate songs were sung daily under the leadership of Miss Alice McLaughlin with Mrs. Benjamin Johnston at the piano, and the supper committee had provided a most toothsome and wholesome supper, which was admirably served by a group of Girl Reserves in their attractive Y. W. uniforms.

Educational Program.
After all had done full justice to the cooks, Mrs. Rice said that she had intended to make a little explanatory speech as to why they were all together, but Miss Van Eiten had quite stolen her thunder by the clever parodies on favorite songs they had been singing, so she extended greetings to all, and after explaining that the Y. W. work is carried on by committees, called on Mrs. Frank W. Thompson, chairman of the educational program of the Y. W., to tell what that committee purposed doing this fall and winter.

Mrs. Thompson's program follows:
Musical Clubs.
The Schubert Choral Club—Miss Virginia Los Kamp will be in charge of the club again this year. Meetings every Friday evening at the "Y" at 7 o'clock. Dues are $2.50 per year. First lesson October 7. Officers of the club: President, Miss Mildred Messenger; vice president, Mrs. Annetta Wheeler; secretary, Miss Jessie Cowley; treasurer, Miss Mildred Forst; librarian, Mrs. Marlan Crane Jones.

Voice Culture Class—Miss Virginia Los Kamp will head this group. Meetings every Friday at 6 at the "Y." First lesson October 7.

The Mandolin Club—Mrs. Inez M. Buley, director; Mrs. Leona Van Valkenburgh, accompanist. Meetings every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the "Y." First meeting October 13.

Basketry Classes—Miss Josephine Van Graveness will be in charge of these classes. There will be classes for beginners, also for advanced pupils. Miss Van Graveness is planning to teach many different kinds of baskets in her advanced classes. Term, six lessons, $1.50. Monday and Tuesday evenings and Friday afternoon, beginning October 17.

Gift Making Class—Miss Winifred Sullivan, instructor. This class will interest everyone. Miss Sullivan will teach the making of parchment shades, also favors and gifts. Term, six lessons, $1.50. Tuesday evenings, beginning October 18.

Dressmaking Class—Arranged at the request of six applicants. Four lessons, $2.

Hook Rug Class—Arranged upon request of six applicants. Two lessons, $1.

Vocational Guidance Work, in co-operation with the high school will begin early in February under the guidance of the following committee: Miss Marguerite Cordes, Miss Edith Case and Miss Ethel Hull. Announcement plans will be given later.

Citizenship Meetings—There will be two of these meetings held during the month of October. The first meeting will be held on Monday, October 2, at 8 o'clock. Mayor Dempsey will attend and a voting machine for demonstration, and instructions will be given as to how votes should be cast under the new system of voting. There will be two speakers to outline the campaign issues. John Eckert will speak for the Republican party and Thomas Coughlin for the Democratic party. The date of the second meeting will be October 28, and it was very gratifying to announce that it would be a mass meeting at which Mrs. Colvin would address Y. W. and Federation women.

Women at Home—On October 14 the hospitality committee will have an afternoon tea from 4 until 5:30. All young married women, women at home and older married women in this association are urged to attend. This will be distinctly a social hour, but a discussion will be held as to the advisability of having an afternoon club for women at home.

G. A. Y.'s.
Do you like hiking? Get in touch with this club. We are planning two hikes in October, the first one on Saturday afternoon, October 8. Meet at the "Y" at two o'clock.

Miss Beebe Welcomed.
Mrs. Rice then introduced Miss Beebe, who was given a rising vote of welcome. She graciously expressed herself as not only happy at being in Kingston, working in the Y. W., but feeling very much at home, as Miss Estey was her close friend.

Miss Beebe stressed the necessity of enthusiastic and earnest work with the Girl Reserves who are the acorns which it was hoped would some day grow into the oak-like supporters and workers in the Y. W. Through this branch of work it was hoped to break down any social or other barriers to good friendship, to learn through discussion the right way of life, to grow into good sportsmanship and to undertake always service for others. There are already two groups of Girl Reserves in the high school and three in the graded schools among the seventh and eighth grade girls and one group among the younger industrial girls.

Miss Van Eiten Explains Plans.
Miss Jane Van Eiten was next called upon to give the Business and Industrial Girls' programs. Miss Van Eiten, who is already very popular as the new general secretary, said that she was going to consider "Coordination," as the watchword of her job in general. She told of some of the summer activities of the Industrial Girls and of their plans for the season, including their Wednesday night suppers, the reports to be heard from their delegates to Camp Maqua, later the giving of some money-making entertainment in addition to their weekly meetings. This group is well officered and promises much for the coming season. So far there is no group of Industrial Girls but it is hoped to form one in the near future.

Membership Campaign.
The last speaker called upon was Mrs. Harry Walker, chairman of the membership committee. Mrs. Walker told of the new plan and scope of membership that offers a broader opportunity to girls and women to join the Y. W. and which will be brought before all members in due time. Already renewals of memberships are coming in and follow-up work will be carried on through church groups. Mrs. Walker thought it would be a good idea to adopt as a membership slogan, "Every Member, Another Member." On October 24 there will be a big Membership Rally which will include a Revue, "Down Petticoat Lane," covering the time from Pocahontas to the present-day flapper, and to which all present were urged to come.

A song brought the Harvest Supper to a happy ending.

Mirpah Class Supper.
The Mirpah Class of the Clinton Avenue Sunday school will hold their annual get together supper Wednesday evening, September 28, at the Y. M. C. A. building at 6 o'clock. The supper will be followed by a business meeting. Members are requested to bring in their sunshine bags.

New York Greets Gene Tunney

New York, Sept. 27 (P).—Gene Tunney returned to New York today to receive a tumultuous home town greeting from more than 1,500 enthusiasts at Grand Central station. It took a diving wedge of special police to keep the heavyweight champion from being rushed off his feet by a wildly cheering throng.

Tunney's train, on which he rode from Cleveland, arrived at 10:11 but it was fully 15 minutes before the champion, arm in arm with Eddie Egan, ex-Yale boxer, and Bernard Gimbel, of New York, was able to work his way through the jam of fans.

Tunney waved his hand in reply to clamorous demands for a speech and devoted his first few minutes to greeting friends and newspapermen clustered about him.

When the crowd surged in about the champion, the cordon of police tightened and led an underground dash to the Biltmore Hotel, from which Tunney was escorted to the office of his manager, Billy Gibson, for interviewing purposes.

Felt Better
Before he became famous as the constructor of serials, William Lord Wright was a newspaper man and at one time edited a country paper where the rival editor was most annoying. This man had the habit of stopping his press to insert some bit of instantaneous news. Hardly a day went by that didn't show on the front page an article starting: "We stop the press to announce."

Finally it got on Bill's nerves, and one day his own front page bore the hated legend: "We stop the press to announce that there is nothing of sufficient importance to justify the stopping of the press. Giddap!"—Los Angeles Times.

G. A. Y.'s.
Do you like hiking? Get in touch with this club. We are planning two hikes in October, the first one on Saturday afternoon, October 8. Meet at the "Y" at two o'clock.

Miss Beebe Welcomed.
Mrs. Rice then introduced Miss Beebe, who was given a rising vote of welcome. She graciously expressed herself as not only happy at being in Kingston, working in the Y. W., but feeling very much at home, as Miss Estey was her close friend.

Miss Beebe stressed the necessity of enthusiastic and earnest work with the Girl Reserves who are the acorns which it was hoped would some day grow into the oak-like supporters and workers in the Y. W. Through this branch of work it was hoped to break down any social or other barriers to good friendship, to learn through discussion the right way of life, to grow into good sportsmanship and to undertake always service for others. There are already two groups of Girl Reserves in the high school and three in the graded schools among the seventh and eighth grade girls and one group among the younger industrial girls.

Miss Van Eiten Explains Plans.
Miss Jane Van Eiten was next called upon to give the Business and Industrial Girls' programs. Miss Van Eiten, who is already very popular as the new general secretary, said that she was going to consider "Coordination," as the watchword of her job in general. She told of some of the summer activities of the Industrial Girls and of their plans for the season, including their Wednesday night suppers, the reports to be heard from their delegates to Camp Maqua, later the giving of some money-making entertainment in addition to their weekly meetings. This group is well officered and promises much for the coming season. So far there is no group of Industrial Girls but it is hoped to form one in the near future.

Membership Campaign.
The last speaker called upon was Mrs. Harry Walker, chairman of the membership committee. Mrs. Walker told of the new plan and scope of membership that offers a broader opportunity to girls and women to join the Y. W. and which will be brought before all members in due time. Already renewals of memberships are coming in and follow-up work will be carried on through church groups. Mrs. Walker thought it would be a good idea to adopt as a membership slogan, "Every Member, Another Member." On October 24 there will be a big Membership Rally which will include a Revue, "Down Petticoat Lane," covering the time from Pocahontas to the present-day flapper, and to which all present were urged to come.

A song brought the Harvest Supper to a happy ending.

Mirpah Class Supper.
The Mirpah Class of the Clinton Avenue Sunday school will hold their annual get together supper Wednesday evening, September 28, at the Y. M. C. A. building at 6 o'clock. The supper will be followed by a business meeting. Members are requested to bring in their sunshine bags.

Women at Home—On October 14 the hospitality committee will have an afternoon tea from 4 until 5:30. All young married women, women at home and older married women in this association are urged to attend. This will be distinctly a social hour, but a discussion will be held as to the advisability of having an afternoon club for women at home.

Health Education.
In the absence from town of Dr. Day, chairman of the health education committee, Mrs. Frederick Snyder, member of the committee gave the following program:
